Spencer Fane Welcomes Fresh Talent to Transactions Team in Overland Park

Spencer Fane LLP is pleased to welcome Nicholas M. Cornell to the firm's Overland Park, Kansas, office as an associate in the Corporate and Business Transactions Practice Group.

Nicholas assists clients with a wide range of corporate transactions and general business matters, developing agile solutions to help companies achieve strategic objectives at all stages of growth. He has experience drafting corporate documents from entity formation through deal execution.

A future-oriented advisor, Nicholas focuses on how rapidly changing data privacy laws and regulations impact mergers and acquisitions, assessing risk and all possible implications before guiding clients toward compliant, financially efficient solutions.

"Nicholas has demonstrated the proactive decision-making and resilience under pressure that our accomplished transactions team is known for and will continue to help him cultivate," said David E. Waters, office managing partner for Spencer Fane in Overland Park. "As we officially welcome him to the Overland Park team, we look forward to how he will grow his legal practice here and in his broader practice group, which spans dozens of our national offices."

In 2025, Nicholas notably served as the Kansas City Metropolitan Bar Association's Business and Transactional Law Committee Chair.

Nicholas earned his bachelor's degree and Juris Doctor from The University of Kansas. He is licensed to practice in both Kansas and Missouri.
