Advantage CLE: Risk Management – Crisis and Rapid Response

December 17, 2026
12:00 pm CT - 1:00 pm CT

When a crisis hits, an organization's response in the first hours and days can have significant legal and business implications. Spencer Fane attorneys discuss how organizations can prepare for and respond to critical events, including serious workplace incidents, disasters, and government investigations.

Our panel explores internal and external communications, attorney-client privilege and work product considerations, evidence gathering and preservation, interactions with government agencies and law enforcement, and the importance of employee training before a crisis occurs. Attendees will gain practical insight into developing a coordinated rapid response strategy that helps manage risk, preserve critical information, and position the organization to respond effectively.
