Andrea Perry Named Real Estate/Construction Trailblazer by the National Law Journal

Spencer Fane is pleased to announce attorney Andrea Perry has been recognized as a Real Estate/Construction Trailblazer by the National Law Journal as part of its 2022 class of honorees. The Trailblazer series honors "professionals who have moved the needle in the legal industry."

In her profile, Andrea shared, "I plan to build one of the firm's largest practice groups through my continued focus on sustainable growth that allows for high-level, industry-leading client service. This includes recognizing and addressing the continual efforts to break down barriers that have previously forced women to choose between family and professional commitments. I want to ensure women and other historically underrepresented demographics receive the support, training, work, and mentoring needed to truly excel."

At Spencer Fane, Andrea combines industry insights with responsive, considerate client service to help lending and financial institutions of all types navigate the complex regulatory landscape to achieve efficient, cost-effective transactions. She concentrates her practice in the areas of real estate, commercial lending, general corporate, and tax-exempt organizations.
