

Distinguished Spencer Fane Litigation Team Expands Again in Denver

Spencer Fane LLP is pleased to announce Xian Wang joined the firm's Denver office as an associate in the Litigation and Dispute Resolution practice group.

Xian vigorously represents clients in diverse civil and commercial litigation matters, including complex business disputes, property damage claims, and liability defense. She brings strategic focus and a commitment to outperforming opposing counsel at every stage. Prior to entering private practice, she worked as a law clerk for the Honorable Amy R. Brosnahan of the Tenth Judicial District of Minnesota. In this role, she helped manage a diverse docket of both criminal and civil cases from beginning through jury trial, also gaining the unique ability to filter clients' questions and concerns through a judicial lens.

"As Spencer Fane maintains a steady growth trajectory, we are excited to once again expand our commercial litigation practice here in Denver," said Ron Fano, Office Managing Partner for Spencer Fane in Denver. "We look forward to the fresh perspective and unique insights Xian will contribute to our growing team."

Xian received her bachelor's degree from the University of Wisconsin-Madison before earning her Juris Doctor at the University of Minnesota Law School. While in law school, she was the student director of the University of Minnesota Law School Insurance Law Clinic.

A native of Tianjin, China, Xian is fluent in Chinese and boasts a limited working knowledge of French from time spent studying in the Normandy region.
