

Eric Peterson Joins Receivership Panel for Webinar Presentation

Spencer Fane attorney Eric Peterson recently hosted a discussion series produced by Financial Poise on the initiation, administration, and completion of commercial receiverships. The series ran in four parts over four weeks and is available for purchase on the West LegalEd Center platform.

During the series Eric led a conversation with receivership experts from around the country regarding the decision-making process that precedes the initiation of any receivership action or process, how a receivership is administered, the execution of asset sales, and receivership wind-down issues. The panel also walked through the court filings necessary, common mistakes that are made including the form and content of complaints, motions, notices, bonding requirements, receiver oaths, receiver qualifications, funding, and critical steps a receiver should take when they are appointed by the court.

Financial Poise provides reliable business, financial, and legal education to individual investors, entrepreneurs, business owners, and executives, and helps trusted advisors do the same.

At Spencer Fane, Eric represents companies in need of financial restructuring, whether through bankruptcy, receivership, or workout negotiations, and he represents banks, investors, creditors, and financial institutions in maximizing recoveries on unpaid debt. He is the founding president of the Commercial Receivers Association, which has quickly grown to an industry-leading organization serving the needs of receivership professionals.
