Spencer Fane attorney Dan Nelson recently spoke with KSHB investigator and reporter Cameron Taylor about the steps Jackson County prosecutors may be taking as they review the deadly Kansas City, Missouri, firetruck crash from December 2021.

During his interview, Dan shared, "I'd say video footage of an actual situation like this would be central. Rarely is it dispositive because the testimony that explains what's happening in the video is just as important or can be even more important than the video itself."
