Jack Amaral and Jon Farnsworth Provide Tips on Data Privacy Law Compliance in Law360

Spencer Fane attorneys Jack Amaral and Jon Farnsworth recently authored an article published by Law360 discussing the many 2023 data privacy developments in the legal world thus far.

Their piece, Navigating the Evolving Consumer Data Privacy Landscape, is an extension of their recent firm blog post detailing various data privacy law updates in states such as Iowa, Indiana, Montana, Tennessee, and Washington. Jack and Jon also advised business leaders on action items that will bolster compliance with these new regulations.

"With the growing patchwork of individual states with consumer privacy laws, further complexities and costs will be borne by businesses in the U.S. that are forced to obey multiple different legal standards," they shared. "By incorporating these tactics and strategies, businesses can better navigate the evolving landscape of data privacy regulations, protect consumer rights, and maintain trust in their businesses."

At Spencer Fane, Jack focuses on providing responsive day-to-day legal advice on all aspects of corporate operations critical to success for clients of all sizes. Jon commonly counsels clients on computer, internet, privacy, website, data breach, cybersecurity, cyber liability insurance, technology, software, data privacy and security, and intellectual property legal issues.
