Jason Medley Joins Panel at NYIC + IFA Northeast Chapter Factoring Program

Spencer Fane attorney Jason Medley was a panelist at the Annual New York Institute of Credit (NYIC) + International Factoring Association (IFA) Northeast Chapter Factoring Program on March 4 in New York.

Featuring three panels of renowned thought leaders, the event provided three hours of insights on factoring, fintech, artificial intelligence, and more. For his session – Legal Panel to Discuss 2026 Important Challenges: UCC Updates and Blockchain, Disclosure Laws, and Dealing with MCAs – Jason and his fellow panelists delved into the legal and regulatory issues reshaping the industry such as the rise of digital assets, commercial financing disclosure laws, and merchant cash advances. They also provided practical tips for navigating these challenges.

At the firm, Jason harnesses 26 years of experience to help banks and other financial institutions structure transactions in a manner that enables them to be efficiently closed, allowing for key stakeholders to maximize benefits and avoid unnecessary delays or costs. His work fully encompasses all aspects of contract negotiations, workouts, intercreditor relations, and secured party collections.
