Jon Watson Named Employment Trailblazer by the National Law Journal

Spencer Fane is pleased to announce attorney Jon Watson has been recognized as an Employment & Discrimination Trailblazer by the National Law Journal as part of its 2023 class of honorees. The Trailblazer series honors "professionals who have moved the needle in the legal industry."

In his profile, Jon discussed the strong client relationships he has formed and their direct impact on his work. He shares, "Each party works together, collaborating toward one straightforward goal: to achieve the best results possible for the company, no matter the issue or location. When all parties have this level of mutual trust – a genuine confidence that the other is acting in their best interest – anything is possible."

At Spencer Fane, Jon represents clients with a singular focus: to serve as a solutions-oriented business partner for employers facing labor and employment issues. What sets Jon apart is his drive to learn clients' businesses and to give advice based on their unique circumstances and strategic priorities. Jon does more than simply tell clients what "can" and "cannot" be done; he helps clients assess and balance risk to meet each challenge. With a local and national practice, Jon assists businesses ranging from startups to Fortune 100 companies to mitigate risk and deliver results that align with their specific business operations.
