

SpencerFane®

Jump-Start Your Political and Advocacy Efforts for the New Presidential Administration and Congress

January 16, 2025

12:00 pm CST – 1:00 pm CST

Learn how to get a jump start on your interactions with the new presidential administration and Congress. Whether you are a business, nonprofit, or an association, the post-election landscape in Washington, D.C. will likely lead to significant changes in your industry. Join A.J. Ferate, Andy Lester, and Bill Powers as they break down what obstacles and opportunities are presented by the new political and regulatory environment, and discuss specific tactics for engaging with lawmakers, administration officials, and other key policy makers. The team will also discuss how to leverage the various tools available to you for engaging with Washington – including how to form a PAC and navigate political giving, ways to stay compliant with federal lobbying and ethics rules, and what tactics are available when facing agency rulemaking.