

Kaela Brennan Highlights Spencer Fane Advantage for Minnesota Municipal Utilities Association

Spencer Fane attorney Kaela Brennan was recently featured in the Minnesota Municipal Utilities Association (MMUA)'s Vendor Spotlight, an ongoing segment of the organization's e-newsletter that highlights the MMUA's most crucial associate members.

The article, Spencer Fane Provides Expert Support for MMUA Members, outlines Kaela's career journey into utility law, her passion for serving municipal utilities, and how Spencer Fane enhances her client service.

"I am surrounded by experts in areas of law that complement my work with municipal utilities," Kaela said. "That experience, along with their collaboration, only improves the service I can offer to clients. More fundamentally, my colleagues are wonderful people, and I truly enjoy working together with them."

She also added: "A number of municipal utilities decided to have Spencer Fane represent them, I'm delighted to say. It has been just a great privilege to have that sense of trust and confidence in the work that's being done."

At the firm, Kaela Brennan's governmental and general counsel practice addresses the full range of identifying and responding to potential risks, from proactive, preventive counsel to handling all aspects of dispute resolution, with an intentional focus on providing clients with legal outcomes that align with client objectives. Her diverse work specifically includes handling complex agreements and litigation, along with appellate procedures and experience serving as outside general counsel for government entities.
