Mark Bogdanowicz Joins Panel at Firm-Sponsored ABI Workshop

Spencer Fane was pleased to serve as a Platinum and opening reception sponsor for the American Bankruptcy Institute (ABI)'s 2026 Central States Bankruptcy Workshop on June 4-6 in Lake Geneva, Wisconsin. Attorney Mark Bogdanowicz was a panelist for the conference.

Mark joined four other legal thought leaders for the Agricultural and Chapter 12 Issues session. This panel examined the unique challenges debtors and creditors navigate during financial distress and reorganization in the family farming and agricultural industry. Mark and his cohorts discussed current economic forces and filing trends; the material differences between chapter 12 and other forms of reorganization and how these differences guide a debtor's filing decision; nonbankruptcy federal and state law governing lien creation, perfection and priority, and asset-tracing; and uncovering fraud.

At Spencer Fane, Mark harnesses over 20 years of experience representing creditors from coast to coast to help his clients navigate the costs and uncertainty of doing business with companies and individuals faced with financial distress. He provides counsel to clients across the full spectrum of industries on complex bankruptcy and restructuring matters, maximizing their recoveries and formulating strategies in the proceedings to align with business goals and objectives.

He is also one of several firm members who belong to the ABI, a premier legal organization for which Spencer Fane serves as a capital partner and co-founder of its recently launched Ascent Network.
