

Minnesota Lawyer Showcases Alex Schoephoerster as Up & Coming Attorney

Spencer Fane attorney Alex Schoephoerster was recently spotlighted in a special section of the Minnesota Lawyer for his 2025 Up & Coming Attorney honor.

Up & Coming Attorneys celebrates lawyers in their first decade of practice who have “already distinguished themselves through their talent and commitment to serving clients. Alex’s profile highlights his trailblazing work in the rapidly evolving bitcoin, blockchain, and digital assets space; ongoing industry thought leadership; and community stewardship.

“[Alex] has built a thriving practice in the fast-moving digital currency area. He’s been helping clients ... ‘understand the regulatory environment and how it is changing and what the ‘writing on the wall’ is saying,” declares the publication.

At the firm, Alex advises clients across a broad spectrum of business law and transactional matters, including governance and buy-sell agreements, capital fundraising, contracts and commercial transactions, estate planning and business succession planning, real estate, mergers and acquisitions, bitcoin and blockchain matters, and general business practices. Leveraging his legal, business, and analytical skills, he delivers a highly personalized service focused on value creation and the prioritization of each client’s unique goals and objectives.
