Shelli Clarkston Provides Valuation Advice at American Bankers Association Conference

Spencer Fane attorney Shelli Clarkston spoke at the American Bankers Association Conference for Community Bankers on February 13 in San Antonio.

Shelli served on a panel, The High Importance of High Valuation, alongside fellow industry thought leader Evan Daniels (Mitchell Sandler) and moderator Paul Schaus (CCG Catalyst Consulting). The session advised community bankers on achieving and maintaining high valuations in the mergers & acquisitions space. Attendees received tips for marketing their institutions while safeguarding their value, resources, and independence.

This presentation was part of the three-day event's extensive programming. In addition to educational sessions focused on the areas of finance and operations, profitability, human capital, and technology, the conference provided keynote speakers, themed networking receptions, exhibitors, and more.

At Spencer Fane, Shelli provides financial institutions of all sizes with proactive legal counsel on regulatory and compliance matters, allowing them to conduct business and complete transactions with more precision, speed, and cost-efficiency. She collaboratively develops and implements compliance programs, best practices, and policies with a specific focus on enterprise and program risk management.
