

Spencer Fane Attorneys Give Insight on COVID-19 Developments for Multiple Media Outlets

Spencer Fane attorneys Michelle Berger, Helen Holden, Sonja McGill, and Randi Winter recently discussed timely labor and employment topics for BenefitsPRO, Business Insurance, and Construction Executive. The articles cover COVID-19 vaccination mandates and safety measures/compliance in the workplace.

Titled “FAQs About the Federal Contractor Vaccination Mandate,” Michelle, Helen, Sonja, and Randi discuss federal COVID-19 workplace safety protocols focusing on industries where federal contracts are common, including construction and transportation.

Sonja also authored “New vaccine mandate guidance comes with some flexibility for federal contractors,” where she details the federal COVID-19 vaccination mandate and how the requirement impacts federal contractors.

Randi was featured in two Business Insurance articles covering the federal vaccination mandate, exemptions, and appeals. Read the article about COVID-19 vaccination appeals and litigation here, and find the article about religious exemptions here.

Our attorneys are actively involved in remaining up-to-date with COVID-19 developments and updating our clients and network. For more information, please click here.

Please note, a subscription may be required to access the articles.