Spencer Fane Debuts on Global 200 While Continuing Record Growth

Spencer Fane has been named to The American Lawyer's 2026 Global 200, appearing on the annual ranking of the world's largest law firms for the first time at #166.

The firm's entry into the Global 200 comes on the heels of Spencer Fane being recognized as the fastest-growing law firm on the Am Law 200, which is also published by The American Lawyer, while also being recognized as one of the most innovative firms in the nation by Financial Times.

The Global 200 ranking evaluates law firms worldwide based on financial performance and scale, including gross revenue, profitability, and lawyer headcount. This year's results highlight an ongoing concentration of revenue and market influence among the industry's top-performing firms.

The firm's debut on the Global 200 reflects its sustained growth trajectory and expanding national platform. The latest placement underscores the momentum Spencer Fane has built through a strategy centered on exceptional client service, attracting and retaining top talent, and preserving the collaborative culture that distinguishes the firm. As Spencer Fane expands its national footprint and strengthens capabilities across key practice areas, the firm remains focused on delivering value-driven legal solutions that help clients achieve their business objectives.
