

Spencer Fane Growth in Houston Continues With Addition of Litigation Attorney

Spencer Fane LLP is pleased to announce Travis Armstrong joined the Litigation and Dispute Resolution practice group as an of counsel attorney in the firm's Houston office.

Travis provides thorough and innovative representation through the full cycle of commercial litigation, always with the aim of obtaining results that align with clients' unique business goals. Travis focuses his practice on appellate law, navigating the procedural pitfalls of litigation to ensure that clients are in the best possible position to protect their trial victories and undo their trial defeats. Consistent with his practice, Travis has a passion for legal research and writing, serving clients with lucid, erudite, and above all persuasive written advocacy. However, Travis is no stranger to the courtroom, and he brings a curated track record of trial success in commercial, insurance, employment, and personal injury matters.

"Spencer Fane continues to align growth in Houston with increasing needs for our clients, especially in the area of complex commercial litigation," said Brian Zimmerman, Office Managing Partner for Spencer Fane in Houston. "Travis provides us with another experienced resource, and his shared commitment to our firm's dynamic culture and value proposition makes him an asset in helping us maintain our commitments."

Travis completed his undergraduate studies at Texas A&M University and later earned his Juris Doctor from the South Texas College of Law. Prior to entering private practice, he completed a clerkship for the Hon. Marcia Crone in the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Texas and an internship with the Hon. David Hittner in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Texas.
