Spencer Fane Hosts Latino Business Referral Network Event in San Jose

The Spencer Fane San Jose office was pleased to host a May 30 networking event for the Latino Business Referral Network (LBRN). Attorneys and LBRN members Servando Sandoval and Ginger Sotelo represented the firm at the event.

The LBRN is a growing community of like-minded Latino professionals and leaders dedicated to mutual success, acknowledging the profound impact of networking, and cultivating personal and business relationships. The group fosters a robust network of Latino professionals and dependable referral resources committed to client service and nurturing business expansion through consistent and collaborative endeavors.

At Spencer Fane, Servando represents both for-profit and nonprofit owners, property managers and developers, employers, and other businesses and individuals involved in state and federal litigation and administrative hearings. Ginger assists financial industry and real estate clients in structuring their operations and transactions for efficiency, resiliency, and success. In addition to their work, both Servando and Ginger play active roles in their local community by maintaining deep involvement with organizations that benefit underserved populations, provide mentorship and sponsorship opportunities, and empower others. In addition to LBRN, these organizations include the Alum Rock Jazz Foundation, Housing Industry Foundation, Rotary Club of San Jose, and CREW Silicon Valley.
