Spencer Fane Hosts Nashville Power Poll Gun Control & Public Safety Panel

Spencer Fane was pleased to serve as presenting sponsor and host for Power Poll's Gun Control & Public Safety event on July 26 at the firm's Nashville office.

Power Poll members gathered to witness a meaningful panel discussion on gun control and the upcoming special legislative session in Tennessee dedicated to the issue. WKRN Channel 2 anchor Bob Mueller moderated the panel, which featured Voices for a Safer Tennessee board member Todd Cruse, and Tennessee Lookout reporter Sam Stockard. Metro Nashville Chief of Police John Drake, the keynote speaker for the 2023 Spencer Fane Juneteenth event, also served as a panelist. The group explored the current gun violence level, possible solutions, and the likelihood of the legislative session achieving significant results.

Power Poll is a civic engagement platform that brings together leaders across business, civic, media, and political industries. It surveys, holds conversations with, and engages its members to understand their collective positions, opinions, and thought leadership on critical issues.

Earlier this year, 12 Spencer Fane attorneys in Nashville earned a place on Power Poll's 2023 list of Most Powerful People. Learn more about Power Poll here.
