

SpencerFane®

Spencer Fane Shortlisted for 2025 Managing IP Americas Awards

Spencer Fane is pleased to announce its shortlisting for Managing IP Americas Awards 2025. The firm is one of only three nationwide recognized in the Firm to Watch category, with all winners to be announced at the April 24 awards gala in New York City.

The Managing IP Awards honor the past year's most remarkable achievements and developments in the intellectual property sector. Now in its 20th year, the awards harness a rigorous research methodology and selection process that spans several IP practice areas and more than 50 jurisdictions.

Nominated alongside two intellectual property-centered firms in its category, Spencer Fane is unique in its multifocus approach to law. The firm's IP team possesses both the technical knowledge and legal experience necessary to protect inventors, entrepreneurs, and businesses of all sizes, allowing them to translate their creativity into marketable products and services. The group comprises industry-renowned attorneys across the firm's national footprint who guide individuals and businesses through preparation and prosecution of complex patent, copyright, and trademark matters. Due to the team's exceptional services, clients are empowered to pursue innovation and maximize long-term value in a rapidly evolving IP landscape.

Read the full 2025 Managing IP Americas Awards shortlist here and learn more about the Spencer Fane IP team here.