Spencer Fane Sponsors Agricultural Business Council of Kansas City's Ag Outlook Forum

Spencer Fane proudly sponsored the Agricultural Business Council of Kansas City's eighth annual Ag Outlook Forum on September 26. Attorneys Andrea Chase and Eric Johnson represented the firm at the event.

The event, co-hosted by both the Council and Agri-Pulse Communications, featured top agricultural and other significant industry professionals sharing their perspectives on the current state of agribusiness and how to face its challenges going forward. Over 350 individuals attended from across the nation, both in-person and virtually.

The Agricultural Business Council of Kansas City, an association established in 2003, advocates growth and awareness of the food, fiber, agri-science, and related industries in the Kansas City region. With over 300 members, they provide a robust network and successful avenue for advancing the industry.
