Spencer Fane Team to Present at ACC Tennessee Event

Spencer Fane attorneys Charles Robert Bone and Stacey Garrett Koju will speak at an Association of Corporate Counsel (ACC) Tennessee event on August 25. The firm's Nashville office is also hosting and sponsoring the event.

During their presentation, An Outside (Counsel) Perspective: Building Your Crisis Management Playbook, Charles Robert and Stacey will discuss key components in building your crisis management playbook, including building a game plan for the inevitable, knowing your points of contact, and creating both an external and an internal communication strategy. They will also walk participants through the overall recovery process.

Earlier this year, attorneys Jamie Cotter and Jon Watson spoke at an ACC "Confessions of Outside Counsel" event and Jon moderated another session of the series.

At Spencer Fane, Charles Robert helps clients efficiently and effectively close deals and establish successful operational procedures and governance, allowing business owners and executives to successfully implement the vision for their company.

Stacey provides proactive legal advice on all aspects of critical corporate matters, recognizing that each transaction is important to the future of a business and its owners and allowing them to maintain successful operations.
