Spencer Fane attorneys Kirstin Kanski and Bill Powers will co-present the Wall Street Blockchain Alliance (WSBA)'s Down to the Wire: CLARITY Act, Crypto PACS, and Ethics Before the Recess webinar on August 5.

Joined by policy expert Adam Goldberg, Kirstin and Bill will examine the latest developments in the digital asset regulatory landscape. The team will discuss the CLARITY Act – federal legislation aimed at creating a clearer regulatory framework for digital asset classification, regulatory jurisdiction, and compliance obligations – the growing role of crypto PACs and political fundraising, and the government ethics rules market participants should understand when engaging with policymakers.

In addition to their roles as WSBA members, Bill and Kirstin assist Spencer Fane clients on complex regulatory, compliance, and governance matters. Kirstin counsels financial institutions on banking regulation, risk management, data privacy, consumer compliance, and enforcement matters, while Bill serves as Office Managing Partner for the firm's Washington, D.C. office while advising organizations, nonprofits, and emerging businesses on political law, ethics, lobbying, campaign finance, and regulatory compliance, including issues involving artificial intelligence and other evolving technologies.
