Stacey Garrett Koju Elected to Board of the Nashville Entrepreneur Center

Spencer Fane attorney Stacey Garrett Koju was recently appointed to the Board of Directors for the Nashville Entrepreneur Center (NEC). In her role on the board, Stacey will provide leadership and direction to efforts at the NEC.

The NEC is a business development organization whose mission is to “connect entrepreneurs with critical resources to create, launch, and grow businesses.” The NEC has helped 10,000 entrepreneurs over the past ten years, which has enhanced the Nashville economy. By having a role in this association, Stacey will continue to fulfill her personal goal of investing in the community.

“Our new board members have each moved the needle in their respective industries,” Janet Miller, NEC board chair, said. “We’re fortunate to have these amazing leaders on our team as we continue to turn ideas into reality and empower our community.”
