

Taylor's Addition to Litigation Group Continues Growth Trend in Denver

Spencer Fane LLP is pleased to announce Lauren Taylor has joined the Litigation and Dispute Resolution practice group as an associate in the firm's Denver office.

Taylor focuses her practice on helping clients navigate complex litigation, bringing specific experience in construction, intellectual property and corporate matters. In addition, she has experience serving as in-house counsel for a large nonprofit corporation, interning at a global consulting company and clerking at a law firm focused on IP and patents.

"Spencer Fane continues to pursue measured growth in this market as it aligns with the increased legal needs of our clients," said Ron Fano, Office Managing Partner for Spencer Fane in Denver. "We continue to seek out attorneys who fit with our culture of collaboration and high-levels of client service, and Lauren shares those values. We look forward to her contributions."

Taylor completed her undergraduate studies at the University of Iowa and went on to earn her Juris Doctor from the University of Iowa College of Law. While in law school, she served as a student writer and contributing editor of the Iowa Law Review.
