Three Spencer Fane Attorneys Distinguished as Leading Crisis Management Lawyers by Lawdragon

Spencer Fane attorneys Andy Lester, Patrick McInerney, and Karen Olson have been named to the 2025 Lawdragon 500 Global Leaders in Crisis Management list.

Lawdragon has been evaluating leaders in the legal industry since the original publication of the Lawdragon 500 Leading Lawyers in America in 2005. Since that time, the publication has added industry- and practice-specific guides to its offering, with honorees selected based on a rigorous process of journalistic research, nominations, and peer vetting.

This year's guide highlights the top attorneys at the forefront of "the rising convergence in law practice and strategy of increased oversight in a global environment." From Kansas City and Oklahoma City to Washington, D.C., and Minneapolis, the firm's honorees have "enhanced communications providing levers in litigation, deals and elsewhere" while demonstrating a "skill set in proficiency and technology that can enhance the optics of almost any situation."
