2021 Labor and Employment Landscape

November 17, 2021
12:00 pm CT - 1:30 pm CT

What Happened, Where are We, and Where We're Going

Spencer Fane attorneys Sam Jackson, Matt Morrison, and DeAndrea Washington will present at an upcoming virtual seminar, covering an overview of labor and employment law in 2021.

Sam, Matt, and DeAndrea will discuss recent updates to labor and employment laws and regulations under the new administration, including evolving enforcement priorities, the ever-changing impact of COVID-19, and its variants on the workplace. They will also explain employer state and federal obligations and liability risks that continue to evolve rapidly.

As we turn the page on 2021, this session will explore:

- Hot topics in labor-management relations
- Paid leave laws
- The impact of significant Supreme Court decisions
- Workplace safety and health, including but not limited to Occupational Safety and Health Administration's highly anticipated COVID-19 Emergency Temporary Standard
- Updates to Equal Employment Opportunity Commission updates to COVID-19 guidance
- A look ahead to 2022
