Yana Rusovski to Speak at 2025 MBA Compliance and Risk Management Conference

September 28, 2025
Grand Hyatt | 1000 H St NW, Washington, DC 20001

Spencer Fane attorney Yana Rusovski is a featured speaker at the Mortgage Bankers Association's 2025 Compliance and Risk Management Conference taking place September 28-30 in Washington, D.C.

Conference sessions will feature residential mortgage leaders and decision-makers from several key sectors as they discuss new government lending practices, regulatory compliance, risk management, credit risk analysis and mitigation, QA/QC, underwriting, and fraud prevention. In addition to offering CLE and CPE credits, the conference curates valuable learning and networking opportunities for MBA members to keep pace with a rapidly changing business landscape.

Yana, along with three mortgage industry leaders, will present a session titled, Valuation Challenges Amidst a Declining Market, covering critical topics such as state-level markets, obstacles in assessing property values, and what lenders can do to minimize risk to portfolios and maintain compliance. Backed by in-depth industry experience, including her former career as a compliance director for the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, Yana has established a national reputation as a cutting-edge thought leader in the space.

At the firm, Yana's practice focuses on the legal needs of clients in the real estate, finance, and government sectors, with particular emphasis on regulatory compliance, preventive counseling, and defending against enforcement actions. She regularly helps clients identify and manage fair housing and fair lending risks and specializes in developing carefully tailored strategies to resolve disputes in ways that safeguard business goals, reputations, and relationships.

MBA is the only membership association representing all segments of the real estate finance industry. Learn more about the 2025 MBA conference here.
