Overview

Ashlyn Frix helps businesses and individuals navigate disputes and legal challenges so they can protect their interests and achieve favorable outcomes regardless of resolution method.

Ashlyn represents clients in a variety of litigation matters, with experience in commercial disputes, insurance defense, and personal injury defense. She closely works with clients throughout the litigation process, developing practical strategies tailored to their objectives while advocating effectively on their behalf.

In addition to her litigation practice, Ashlyn assists clients with real estate and family law matters. Her broad experience across multiple areas of law allows her to provide thoughtful counsel and responsive service to individuals and businesses facing a range of legal issues.

Before entering private practice, Ashlyn served as a judicial extern for the Oklahoma Supreme Court. That experience provided valuable insight into the judicial process and informs her approach to legal analysis and advocacy.
