Overview

Cricket Beeson assists clients with litigation matters from case inception through resolution, helping navigate a wide range of disputes with creative and effective solutions. This includes conducting legal research and case discovery as well as helping prepare sound courtroom arguments.

Prior to entering private practice, Cricket served as Dane County (Wisconsin) Assistant Corporation Counsel, where she helped manage a wide range of municipal and civil matters for the county and gained a foundation in trial preparation and litigation.

Before joining Spencer Fane, Cricket represented clients in a broad range of civil litigation matters in a Wisconsin-based private practice.
