Overview

John Klevorn is a transactional attorney, assisting clients in effectively structuring and executing a wide range of corporate and business transactions, and providing responsive, day-to-day legal services that lead to successful operations.

With a practice focused on corporate law and real estate, John has built significant experience in mergers and acquisitions transactions; real estate development, sale, and leasing transactions; and federal, state, and local tax credits and development incentives.

In his corporate practice, John provides general counsel to his clients. He frequently represents buyers and sellers in mergers and acquisitions transactions; represents closely-held businesses in achieving their goals, including addressing succession planning needs; and represents lenders and borrowers in financing transactions. John's clients include tax credit lenders, investors and developers, alcohol and beer distributors, and various other commercial enterprises.

In his real estate practice, John represents lenders, developers, and investors in tax credit developments. He has a particular focus in low-income housing tax credit developments, including representing QALICBs in New Markets Tax Credit development. John also regularly represents clients in connection with the sales and acquisitions of commercial properties and commercial leasing transactions.
