Overview

Karen Wohlgemuth approaches each case in a compassionate and strategic manner to find amicable and cost-effective resolutions to fit the unique circumstances of each case. She is a successful litigator using her advocacy skills to reach outcomes through settlement negotiation, mediations, settlement conferences, hearings, motion practice, and trial.

Karen focuses her practice on domestic relations, which encompasses a wide range of cases. She has successfully handled matters of divorce, premarital or postnuptial agreements, paternity, modification, enforcement, and grandparent visitation. She handles complex matters involving issues of fitness and custody evaluations, international, jurisdiction, military, business dissolution, asset valuations, special action, professional athlete, high net-worth, high conflict, mental health, addiction, orders of protection, and domestic violence issues. She serves all counties in Arizona and clients of all backgrounds.
