Overview

Mariana assists clients in a variety of complex litigation matters, specifically focusing on trust, estate, and fiduciary litigation with an established ability to resolve multifaceted disputes while preserving highly sensitive interests and relationships. Using the full range of dispute resolution methods, she carefully navigates private settlements and, when necessary, employs proactive litigation to obtain the most favorable outcomes for clients and associated parties.

Prior to establishing her current areas of focus, Mariana primarily worked in business immigration law, aiding individuals and institutions in professional fields, including education, medicine, and energy. With a multinational, quadrilingual background that includes being raised in Ukraine, obtaining undergraduate degrees in Poland and the U.S., and earning her Juris Doctor in the U.S., Mariana maintains a high capacity for serving clients with markedly diverse backgrounds, experiences, and interests. She is fluent in English, Ukrainian, Polish, and Russian.

Beyond her private practice, Mariana notably feels called to matters involving free speech. She serves as Chair of the Training Task Force on the Oklahoma Free Speech Committee, where she addresses free speech at public institutions of higher education in Oklahoma.
