Overview

Maureen H. Cook handles aspects of trust and estate matters, including probate, trust administration, and probate litigation. Her experience encompasses creating simple and complex wills and trusts, financial power of attorney documents, and advanced medical directives.

Prior to pursuing a career as an attorney, Maureen built significant experience as a business manager, which informs her unique ability to understand the needs of individuals, families and companies, and organizations of all sizes.

Maureen completed her undergraduate studies in business administration at Creighton University and later earned her Juris Doctor from Washburn University in Topeka, Kansas.
