Overview

Nate Barker focuses his practice on defending insurance companies and their insureds in both first-party and third-party claims, including cases involving allegations of bad faith and unreasonable claim handling.

Prior to joining Spencer Fane, Nate worked at two Denver-area firms where he gained a wide variety of experience in all phases of civil litigation. He has conducted numerous hearings and trials and managed various components of the discovery phase of cases, including managing document review and production in complex matters. Nate has obtained dismissal and summary judgment in a variety of cases and successfully defended those outcomes on appeal. Nate recognizes that attention to detail is critically important in representing clients in complex litigation and excels in evaluating strategies and counseling clients to achieve desired outcomes.

A strong believer in the importance of community service, Nate currently serves as the volunteer Secretary of the Board of Directors and a member of the Fund Development Committee for SafeHouse Denver. Nate previously served as a volunteer board member of both the Curious Theatre Company of Denver and Hosteling International USA, Rocky Mountain Council.
