Overview

Patrick Mosley represents a diverse base of clients in a wide range of matters pertaining to bankruptcy and creditors' rights and corporate reorganizations and restructurings. With a deep understanding of respective industry risks, opportunities, and overall positioning, he cuts through complexities to develop detailed strategies for favorable results in and out of the courtroom.

Specifically, Patrick represents distressed companies, unsecured creditors' committees, and purchasers of assets in all aspects of complex bankruptcies and insolvency proceedings, and secured and unsecured creditors in workouts, non-bankruptcy corporate reorganizations, and acquisitions of troubled businesses.

In addition, Patrick regularly advises clients and boards of directors on highly sensitive and complex matters, including internal investigations, compliance matters, and fiduciary obligations. He provides businesses with general corporate advice for efficient, scalable operations and assists with mergers and acquisitions, institutional lending, real property purchase and sale transactions, and commercial development.

Prior to entering private practice, Patrick gained valuable legal experience in U.S. bankruptcy courts, serving as a law clerk to the Honorable Colleen A. Brown, U.S. Judge for the District of Vermont, and the Honorable Catherine Peek McEwen, U.S. Bankruptcy Judge for the Middle District of Florida.
