Overview

Kevin Redwine helps businesses navigate mergers and acquisitions, energy transactions, and corporate matters so they can pursue strategic opportunities, manage risk, and achieve their growth objectives.

A significant portion of Kevin's practice focuses on representing buyers and sellers in complex transactions. He advises clients on acquisitions, dispositions, mergers, stock transactions, and asset purchases, guiding them through every stage of the deal process. By combining legal insight with practical business judgment, Kevin helps clients structure and execute transactions efficiently while addressing operational and regulatory considerations.

Kevin also has extensive experience in the energy industry. His practice includes energy-related acquisitions and dispositions, regulatory matters, industry contracts, and dispute resolution. Clients rely on his understanding of the legal and business issues affecting energy companies to help them navigate challenges and capitalize on opportunities in a dynamic market.

In addition to his transactional work, Kevin advises clients on financing and general corporate matters. He has represented businesses across a wide range of industries, including energy, manufacturing, transportation, technology, real estate, and banking.
