Overview

Robert Temple assists clients with all aspects of asset preservation in the areas of estate planning, general business, and taxes. He works to provide a balanced, flexible guide to protecting finances and navigating highly sensitive matters while also focusing on both short- and long-term client objectives.

An attorney who centers his clients' interests through all stages of the legal process, Rob strives to bring a level of comfort and ease to his counsel. He accomplishes this by ensuring that all issues – whether public or private – are handled with the same level of care and attention.

While earning his Juris Doctor at the University of Missouri School of Law, Rob was the editor-in-chief of the Journal of Dispute Resolution. Following, he earned his Master of Laws in taxation with an emphasis in estate planning and wealth transfer at the Northwestern Pritzker School of Law, acquiring focused knowledge he applies to his current practice.
