Overview

Shelli focuses her practice on regulatory compliance, corporate governance, and strategic transactions for clients in the financial services, FinTech, and technology sectors. Her work combines deep knowledge of the evolving regulatory landscape with practical experience advising banks, credit unions, lenders, and technology companies on structuring compliant, forward-looking business operations.

In the financial institutions and FinTech space, Shelli counsels clients on licensing, lending, payments, and consumer protection laws, including the Bank Holding Company Act, Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act (GLBA), Truth in Lending Act, Equal Credit Opportunity Act, and state-specific lending frameworks. She regularly assists fintech companies in navigating bank partnerships, compliance management systems, and vendor management obligations to align with FDIC, OCC, NCUA, CFPB, and state regulator expectations.

Shelli's corporate practice includes entity formation, governance, and shareholder arrangements, as well as advising on mergers, acquisitions, and strategic investments. She manages transactions from due diligence through negotiation and closing, addressing issues such as data security, technology licensing, and regulatory approval processes.

Shelli also advises clients on privacy and cybersecurity compliance, including GLBA, GDPR, and CCPA requirements, as well as NIST and CISA cybersecurity frameworks. Her work includes drafting and negotiating data processing agreements, incident response plans, and information security provisions in vendor contracts. She frequently assists clients with cross-border data transfer issues, AI decisioning compliance, and cloud services contracting.

In the technology sector, Shelli drafts and negotiates agreements involving software licensing, open-source components, SaaS platforms, and emerging technologies, ensuring that clients remain compliant with both commercial and regulatory requirements.

This multidisciplinary approach allows Shelli to serve as a strategic advisor to clients navigating complex regulatory, transactional, and technology-driven issues, helping them innovate and grow while minimizing legal and compliance risk.
